

Challenging Behaviour Foundation – National Strategy Group (CB-NSG) Decision Making Process

The National Strategy Group has a steering group which plans and co-ordinates the work of the group. The steering group is chaired by the Challenging Behaviour Foundation.

Membership of the steering group is as follows (alphabetical order):

- David Allen, Consultant Clinical Psychologist & Head of Specialist Services, Cardiff University
- Roger Banks, College Lead for Primary Care Royal College of Psychiatrists
- Sue Carmichael, Programme Lead, Valuing People Support Team
- Vivien Cooper, Chair of Trustees, Challenging Behaviour Foundation (Chair)
- Jill Davis, Research Programme Manager, Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities
- Gemma Honeyman, Family Support Policy Officer, Challenging Behaviour Foundation
- David Jack, family carer
- Jill Jack, family carer
- Theresa Joyce, Services for Adults with Learning Disabilities British Psychological Society
- Peter McGill, Senior Lecturer, Tizard Centre University of Kent

National Strategy Group members inform the decision making process via attending meetings and corresponding with the Challenging Behaviour Foundation.

- The steering group presents information to group members at meetings and via e-mail.
- The Challenging Behaviour Foundation collates all the information gathered from members via meetings and other correspondence and the material is presented to the steering group at regular steering group meetings.
- The steering group review the material and delegate tasks accordingly; in this way the decision making process is fully informed by group members.

Any correspondence relating to CB-NSG should be sent to:

E-mail: nationalstrategygroup@thecbf.org.uk

Post: Challenging Behaviour – National Strategy Group, The Challenging Behaviour Foundation, The Old Courthouse, New Road Avenue, Chatham, Kent, ME4 6BE.

Last revised: September 2009